CORDOVA.

CORDOVA, Ill., July 22.—The farmers, in addition to their harvesting, are already threshing their rye, taking advantage of the good prices.

James Green is laid up with a large and progressive boil on his right hand.

George W. Tew is the happy possessor of another voter—when equal suffrage is granted to all.

J. W. Heaney is tracking a colt belonging to his brother, E. W. Heaney, which shows considerable speed.

W. S. Piccock is suffering from a bad cut on the wrist of his left arm received while cleaning lamp chimneys.

W. Stockwell is still improving in health, but indications are that it will be a long time before he recovers fully.

Miss Annie Hind, of Rock Island, who has been the guest of W. C. Heaney and family the past week has returned to her home.

A quiet picnic party composed of several families from this place, wended their way to Heaney's grove on Monday last and spent an enjoyable day.

C. B. Fisk, of the firm of Fisk & Bryant, went to Rock Island on Tuesday to collect the delinquent taxes from County Treasurer Campbell. C. B. is the treasurer of the village.

The boys of Cordova are all on the quiver over the prospect of forming a brass band. Much enthusiasm has been awakened, and there is no doubt the long talked of band will finally materialize.

Charles Case, of New York, who has been visiting in Texas, on his way home is now visiting his cousin Frank Case. He looks and says he feels as hearty as a Sioux buck after a weekly distribution of rations.

LOCAL NOTICES.
